Delightful Easter Luncheon-Charming Egg Party for the Little Ones-At an Easter Party.

An Easter Luncheon.

All the lovely green, violet and pink shades are appropriate for Easter, but the true Easter colors are yellow and showing the goodness of God, and white, typical of purity and all things made

Use white gold-band china, gold decorated glass side dishes, with a center-piece of yellow tulips. The individual fective place decoration. A white or of the old Painted Lady pink. yellow egg bears the name of each guest, instead of place cards. These rest on a

As a result of such environment rub the yolks of hard-boiled eggs through a grater, and sprinkle over the top of each cup just before serving. Chicken breasts or squab, with cucumbers, diced potatoes and asparagus tips follow. An egg salad is made from the yolks of hard-boiled eggs mixed with minced ham, replaced in the whites and served in nests of water cress. The dessert consists of New York ice cream, which is yellow, frozen in a ring mold, with egg-shaped dabs of whipped cream in the center.

From a nest of ferns and flowers have the guests draw colored eggs, to each of which is attached a slip of paper bear ing sentiments like these:

Draw the egg of violet hue, You'll have friends both fond and true. Pink will bring you luck, A lover full of pluck.

Gladly take the egg of green, For good fortune may be seen. The egg of blue, Means lovers few.

Do not touch the egg of red; If you do you'll never wed. If you draw the egg of white, Your true love you'll see to-night. You'll marry in another town, If you choose the egg of brown.

These jingles may be written with gold ink which can be used with an ordinary pen, or the paper may be of yellow and the ink of white.

An Egg Party for Children.

The invitation for this pretty party are china nest eggs on which the name and place are written with India ink or gold enamel paint. They are placed in small handled baskets, which may be purchased by the dozen for a trifling sum. Delivering these novel invitations affords much pleasure to the children.

An egg hunt will occupy a good share of the time from "three until six." Procure the dainty eggs made at the candy shops at this season of the year, hide them every place, then let the children hunt for them. Make egg-shaped bags of tarleton to hold the spoils or have small baskets. Award prizes of yellow chicks, rabbits, butterflies and any of the many charming novelties provided by the stores for this joyous season,

After this seat the little folks at tables with boxes of paint, brushes and fancy pictures. Give each one an egg with the privilege of decorating it. Now for the refreshments, which are to be served at six o'clock, so the children will need no other meal when they return home. First serve "magic" eggs, made by selecting good smooth potatoes; bake until almost done, then carefully scoop out a hole large enough to hold an egg, tie the top on and replace in the oven to finish baking. These are wholesome and furnish a mystery as to how the egg got there. Pass sandwiches and cocoa, and then comes the hest of the feast-vinilla ice cream in the form of eggs in nests of candied orange peel strips. A green wicker basket drawn by two rabbits makes an attractive centerpiece for the table. Have a jonquil or tulip for each child to take home with the decorated egg and the candy eggs found in the hunt.

An Easter Party.

Gather a lot of fruit tree boughs and place in water in a warm room; by April the 15th they will be a mass of fragrant beauty, and will be the most appropriate decorations. Make a quantity of paper butterflies and festoon these on strings throughout the rooms. A bunch of lilies for the centerpiece with white candles and shades will make a beautiful table. For the place cards cut out rabbits of white cardboard if you cannot buy them, or make butterflies and write the names across the wings, After the refreshments have a "Butterfly Contest." Provide a number of patterns, gayly-colored papers and water color paints, gold ink, etc. Allow a stated time, then pin the butterflies up Award some simple prize.

MADAME MERRI.

Dazzling Complexion A little girl, tied to her bed for six fed largely upon milk during the period of inactivity, says a writer. She took cod liver oil, too, three times a day, and left her bed with a complexion that was dazzling in its tints. The attending physician askedbe willing to pay the child's price for such a skin, and I did not hesitate fresh milk and early retiring hours.

Gold Crosses.

Blanche Ferry Variety Originated and Was Introduced.

It will soon be time to plant sweet peas, the pretty flowers which have been brought to great perfection in America, and which often thrive in poor soil.

The parent of nearly all the most beautiful varieties of the American sweet pea is the Blanch Ferry, which has a pretty romance connected with its discovery. Some 50 years ago, the comely daughter of a well-to-do farmer ran away from home to marry a white-yellow the emblem of the sun, young quarry-man, and her home thereafter was always in a cottage, often but a mere hut, on the very thin soil overlying the lime stone ledges where her husband worked. When her baby died she went back to her father's farm to bury it, and took with place vases holding two tulips, one of her on returning to her cottage, some white, the other of yellow, make an ef- seed of a white sweet pea, and seed

Some 25 years after the baby died, a get in. seedsman, passing the little home of the mother, noticed the beauty of the sweet ness and obtained a teaspoonful of the seed. This he multiplied into of the Blanch Ferry variety, which is now famous throughout the world for its beauty, and the many varieties it has produced.

Easter Gifts. Easter is now observed almost as universally as Christmas and it is quite the custom to send gifts mostly in the way of flowers, plants, candy or a novelty egg containing a little gift. Books done up in white paper tied with white and yellow ribbon make very acceptable tokens. In Europe, Easter is the most widely celebrated of all the many festival days. The people of Paris "make to themselves the duty of being happy." which we all can surely try to do, and the best way will be to try to remember some one of whom no on else will think. Easter is the one day in the calendar that calls for unqualified praise:

"It is a pretty fashion to be glad; Joy is the grace we say to God." MADAME MERRI.

ISSUES IN THE CAMPAIGN.

Tariff and the Railway Rate Questions Will Be Foremost with Democrats.

Should the rate question by any possibility fail of a satisfactory settlement at the present session, the issue will figure largely in the Democratic fight for control of the Sixtieth congress.

Otherwise the tariff will be the main ssue, followed by attacks on the Roosevelt interpretation of the Monroe doctrine. Charges of corrupt contributions to Republican campaign committees will be freely made, as will accusations of failure on the administrations part to punish influential office-holders who, the Democrats say, have been guilty of violations of the law. The Philippines, too, will figure extensively in Democratic campaign speeches.

"The issues," said John Sharp Wil-Hams, minority leader in the house, in outlining the plans for his party's campaign, "will be corruption in the land and post office departments and the consular service, and the corrupt connection between the Republican national executive committee and insurance and other corporate interests.

"Any Democrat will appreciate that the average Democrat is no more honest than the average Republican, but undoubtedly a Democratic administration could better be trusted to turn the rascals out of service than the very administration which allowed them to

"Another issue will be the enforcement of the laws against those who have been convicted of their violation, but have never been prosecuted. There thousands of pounds, and sold as seed seems to be an idea that an injunction against continued violation of the iaw is enough. "If the senate fails to pass the house rate regulation bill without weakening and destroying amendments, the Demcerats will push that sort of legislation as their own. Should the bill pass in satisfactory form they will refer with pride to their initiative in the matter and to their assistance in framing the law.

"Proper railroad rate regulation will end all monopolies except those which rest on patent rights or overwhelming intellectual and administrative seperiority.

"Back of all, and overlooking all, will be the tariff issue."

ARE LAGGING REFORMERS.

Railway Legislation Neglected by Republicans Who Preach Anti-Graft.

The committee on post offices and can roads of the house of representatives do not see their way to push reform as vigorously as they started out to do. The Republican majority of the committee, according to the Washington Post, has "concluded it was helpless to remedy a condition which a majority of its members frankly admit needs immediate correction. They say the rate of the compensation poid to the rallroads for carrying mail is too high, but confess with chagrin that the only way to reduce it is by a separata law relating solely to that particular subject. It could not be ascertained that there is any disposition on the part of the committee to report such a measure in the immediate future.

"Members of the committee say they intend to make a heroic effort to reduce the compensation of the railroads by requiring the executive departments hereafter to send steel safes, furniture, fixtures and bulk stationery by freight or express.

"It may cause some people to smile to learn that the committee is going to ing tucked twice on either side; the show its deep resentment against the material fronts are also tucked or transportation companies in this manpleated, and are edged with a narrow ner, but the members seem to be in galloon worked on a white ground, real earnest about it. It has been customary for many years for the depart the fronts over the vest; the skirt is ments to send articles such as those joined to the bodice under a band of mentioned through the mails, and of course this heavy weight added considerably to the compensation of the railroads which transported them."

The Democrats of the committee are determined to try and reform these abuses and when the appropriation bill is considered in committee of the whole, will offer amendments and demand a vote on them.

The standing pat has become so chronic with Republican congressmen that they shy at nearly every necessary reform, from tariff to economy. Voters should give these laggard reformers a dose of their own medicine by standing pat and refusing to vote for them and elect Democrats who are pledged to reform this railroad graft and who from association are not tied to the railroads by passes or campaiga contributions.

FOR NERVOUS PEOPLE

A twichigan Mother Preserved to Her Family by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

When the blood is impoverished the nerves starve and neuralgia or something more serious swiftly follows. Nervous people are generally pale people. By supplying through the blood those vital ents that the nerves need, Dr. Wilelements that the nerves need, Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People have performed those remarkable cures that make it impossible for any nervous sufferer to neglect them.

A recent case is that of Mrs. Peter Morrissette, of No. 315 Eleventh street, Alpena, Mich., who writes as follows:

"My trouble started with childbirth. After one of mychildran was horn! I had.

"My trouble started with childbirth. After one of my children was born I had a kind of paralysis. I was very weak and my mouth was a little crooked. I was always tired and was so nervous that I could not bear to hear a dog bark or a bell ring—even the little bird in its cage would annoy me. My heart fluttered a great deal and I had dizzy spells. I was not able to be left alone. I was not able to be left alone.

"My doctor gave me different kinds of medicine, changing it several times. When it was evident that he could not help me he said he did not understand my case. This was three years ago and I was very much discouraged, when my brother, who had taken Dr. Williams' brother, who had taken Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, recommended them to me. I tried them and noticed a change for the better when I was taking the sec Dr. Williams' Pink Pills cured me and I have been well ever since. I now do all my own housework, sewing and wash-ing for seven of us."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have also cured diseases caused by impure or im-poverished blood such as rheumatism, anæmia and after-effects of the grip.
All druggists sell Dr. Williams' P Pills or the remedy will be mailed, postpaid, on receipt of price, 50 cents per box, six boxes for $2.50, by the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y.

In one of the towns it had been arranged that, when the big orators of the day had had their say with reference to politics, there were to be a number of entertainments of the side-show variety to be held on the common.

A pompous politician, who had served a term in the state legislature, and was by reason of that fact on extremely good terms with himself, while endeavoring with a number of ladies to make his way through a dense crowd that surrounded one of the shows, found himself unable to proceed further because of a burly indione of the snows, found almost unable to proceed further because of a burly indi-dividual whom he could not thrust aside. Drawing himself up to his full height the politician tapped the offending one on the shoulder, saying as he did so: "Here! Make way there!"
